Huerta Will Not be a Candidate and Election Will be Legal--Washington Well Satisfied

Washington, Sept. 25.—President Wilson took the position today that the policy of moral suasion adopted by the United States toward Mexico had accomplished its two cardinal purposes—to obtain assurances that there would be a constitutional election, and that Provisional President Huerta would not be a candidate to succeed himself.

Advice received here describing in detail the preparations being made for the election of October 26, and stating also that General Huerta would not be a candidate, but would support Federico Gantun, Mexican minister of foreign affairs, the nominee of the Catholic party, encouraged President

SHOULD BE INVESTIGATED

Time to Find Out What Is Causing Sudden Death of Young People.

Someone In Authority Should Act Before More Deaths Occur.

Nelson E. Barnard, aged 7 years.
Ellen Spichtig, aged 11 years.
Dorothy Spichtig, aged 7 years.
Luther A. Cotton, Jr., aged 3 years.
John W. Ireland, aged 7 years.
Paul K. Tilton, aged 6 years.

This is the death toll of young people up to the present time. In each case the boys and girls were apparently well, up to a comparatively short time before their death. When the two Spichtig children died it was stated that it was thought their deaths were due to poisoning occasioned by eating fruit that had been sprayed with arsenate of lead, but no steps were taken to verify the theory.

Now other young lives have been sacrificed in practically the same manner, and the afflicted parents are no wiser as to the cause of their children's death than were the parents of the Spichtig children.

It would strike the average person that it is about time that a thorough investigation was started by some one to ascertain what has caused the death of so many young children, under suspicion that they have eaten something that contained poison.

It has been the opinion that the children have eaten fruit that contained arsenate of lead, which is used for spraying. If this is true it is high time that the fathers and mothers get busy. The Herald has printed several articles during the past few weeks warning parents to take all the necessary precautions, such as washing all fruit or by seeing that it is pared before the children are permitted to eat it.

TESTIMONY ON CONTRIBUTIONS

Will be Considered in Sulzer Hearing Even Though Not Specified in Articles

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 25.—These ten developments today marked the impeachment trial of Governor Sulzer: Jacob H. Schiff, a New York banker, testified that he was recently asked by Samuel I. Frankenstein, a former law partner of Governor Sulzer, if he would accept the return of the alleged $2500 campaign contribution which the banker yesterday said he gave to the governor without restriction as to its use. Mr. Schiff said he had replied negatively.

The high court by a unanimous vote decided to admit all testimony pertaining to campaign contributions made to the governor, even though they were not specified in the articles of impeachment. This ruling paved the way for the introduction of evidence intended to show the governor had solicited and received large contributions from brewing interests.

The governor asked, according to the testimony, that the contributions be given in cash instead of checks.

Counsel for the impeachment managers said they were prepared to prove the governor received campaign contributions "vastly in excess" of the limit mentioned in the articles of impeachment. There were more than 100 not accounted for, counsel asserted.

THE GOVERNOR WANTS TIME

Felker's Advisers Vary Wildly Regarding Honoring of New York's Request for Extradition of Thaw

Concord, Sept. 25.—A division of opinion is said to exist among Governor Felker's advisers as to whether he should honor the request of the state of New York for the extradition of Harry K. Thaw. It was said tonight that some of his advisers take the attitude that the New York papers are in proper form and that it is unnecessary for the governor to go below their surface in an inquiry into the facts of the case upon which they are based. Others at the state house urge delay.

Governor Felker, who is himself a lawyer, is understood to attach importance to securing further information on the subject of the reported indictment of Thaw by the Dutchess County, New York, grand jury for conspiracy in connection with his escape from Matteawan insane asylum. No indictment has been made public but William T. Jerome said in arguing on New York's petition for extradition before Governor Felker Tuesday, that an indictment had been found but

FILMS COST MUCH MONEY

Thousands of Dollars Spent in Robbing Actresses for Their Parts.

Every frequenter of the moving picture theatres must have been struck at some time or another, by the luxuriousness of the stage setting, of most of the society dramas—the magnificence of the decorations, the richness of the furnishings, and the costliness of the dresses worn by the performers.

Few, however, have any real conception of the huge cost of these things, or appreciate the pains taken by the big film producing companies to get the best of everything.

Take, for instance, the costumes of the principal actresses. The caprices of Europe are ransacked for the latest creations, in millinery and modes. When Max Marmont and Miss Mary Fuller were last over here with the Edison Company, they paid a visit to Paris for the purpose of purchasing a stock of such things for future Edison productions, and in two days shopping they spent more than $15,000.

Miss Little Trimes, the Latin star actress, recently played in a film which necessitated no fewer than 14 changes of costumes, each costing on an average about $75, and she wears when on tour, 20 trunks for her wardrobe.

Miss Gene Gaudier wears one set of furs in the Kalem films that cost $4000, and she has other sets almost equally as valuable. Miss Asta Nelson is credited with being the most extensively dressed actress in the pictures. Frequently her costumes in the society scenes in which she specializes will cost as much as $500 apiece.

It might be thought that as the actual dresses worn by the performers are not seen by the public, but only the photographic representations, of them, that common material or imitation stuff would do as well as the real articles.

But, as a matter of fact, this is far from being the case. Indeed, the very reverse holds good. To get a really first class photograph, first class properties must be provided.

In the early days of the picture play business this was not properly realized. A company that had out $5000 on a collection of properties although expecting them to last for years, was considered extravagant.

Nowadays on the other hand, it would be a very cheap affair that would start with less than $15,000 or $20,000 worth; while one of the best known of the really big film companies in reported to spend as much as $100,000 every year in dressing, as well as technically termed, "fixing" its shows. —ANNOUNCER, London.

OBSEQUIES

William R. Weston

The funeral services of Mr. William R. Weston were held at two o'clock Thursday afternoon from the Christ church, Rev. Charles J. V. Brine, the pastor, officiating. There was a large gathering of friends and the vested choir of the church of which the deceased was a member, rendered several selections and then marched in a body to the grave as an escort. Interment was in the Harmony Grove Cemetery under the direction of H. W. Nickerson. A delegation from St. Andrew's Lodge A. F. and A. M. attended and held their burial service at the grave.

The pall bearers were: Messrs. Ward, Smart, Mercer and Brown from the choir. Messrs. Clark, Parsons, Huxton and Matison from the Brotherhood of Christ church.

States before extending recognition to being impressed upon the Mexican authorities, it is said, with a view to insuring free choice. However, doubt as to the value of the coming election as expressing the will of the Mexican people was cast by constitutional headquarters here today in the language of a statement that its supporters extending over many Mexican states, would not go to the polls.

Many persons familiar with the purpose of the administration here predicted that the next step in the policy of the United States would be an effort indirectly to the constitutionalists, the necessity of participating in the election.

In this connection it was pointed out by officials today that Mexican law would hold the approaching election valid and constitutional if a majority of the voting precincts of the republic were shown to have been in legal operation. The claim of the Mexican government that it controls the territory in which the bulk of the population of Mexico resides, will be taken in account by the Washington administration in judging the coming election. Complaints also throughout the republic will report to the state department their opinion of the fairness of the election, and if the government resulting from the election is recognized the policy of neutrality between the factions would be declared ended and the United States by expatriation of arms would lend its moral support to the government set up in the Mexican capital.

Too Many Difficulties

President Wilson in discussing the situation with cabinet members of the practical difficulties of a constitutional election in Mexico at present, but regarded with satisfaction the determined effort of the authorities in Mexico City to comply with the principal suggestions made in the negotiations conducted by John Lind.

Administration officials but it is known that the United States was not concerned with the personnel of the candidates beyond its opposition to General Huerta's continuation in power—a position justified in their minds because of his irregular assumption of authority and overthrow of Madero. This attitude was declared necessary to further the cause of stable government in Latin America.

Gambela's candidacy, nevertheless, caused much discussion in official circles and doubt was frequently expressed that he could be elected. It was pointed out by administration officials that the Catholic party always had been a majority party in Mexico, because of most Mexicans, although of the Catholic religion, traditionally had opposed the idea of a Catholic political party as leading possibility to a reunion of church and state.

With keen interest, official Washington is waiting to see whom the Liberator of Mexico City will name. Manuel Gálvez, former ambassador to the United States under the Madero regime is regarded as a likely choice.

CLEAR CAPITOL OF SPECTATORS

Tennessee House of Representatives Has Another Exciting Day.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 25.—After another exciting day in the Tennessee house of representatives, leaders of the political factions which have been using to intimidate legislators reached an agreement late this afternoon to clear the capitol of all spectators. The state senate was not in session and members of that body, city detectives, policemen and state officials not present on official business were included in the request to leave the capitol and state house grounds.

This action was taken as a precaution against a threatened open clash between the factions that are fighting over the so called liquor enforcement bills. Three members of the house were named as a committee to clear the state house in accordance with the agreement. The spectators in the corridors were told that the action decided upon was necessary for the preservation of peace. All the participants of the opposing legislative factions, finally left the building and the house was again called to order.

The regulars today continued their filibuster against the liquor law enforcement bills. These bills three in number are designed to strengthen the state wide prohibition laws. All three of the measures passed the senate by a close vote.

Representative Belack's resolution calling John Yeaman, deputy game warden to appear before the house for contempt, it being alleged that he had drawn a revolver yesterday when the house adjourned in an uproar, was voted down.

MORE WHEAT BUT LESS CORN

Washington, Sept. 25.—The production of wheat in the principal countries of the world that falls in is estimated to be 4.1 per cent greater this year than last, the total production being estimated at 3,330,000,000 bushels, according to a cablegram to the Department of Agriculture from the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome.

The oats production, estimated at 3,426,000,000 bushels, is 5.5 per cent less than last year; rye 1,496,000,000 bushels, or 6.7 per cent less; barley, 1,255,000,000 bushels, which is 1.2 per cent more than last year.

The preliminary estimate of corn, which is given for the United States, European Russia, Spain, Italy, Hungary, Japan, Bulgaria, Switzerland and Persia, is 2,708,000,000 bushels which is 22.4 per cent less than was raised in those countries last year.

The rice crop of Japan is estimated at 16,662,000,000 pounds, an increase of 5.1 per cent over last year.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's a Simple Receipt that Anybody Can Apply With a Hair Brush

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on the dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out of date. Nowadays by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, you will get this famous old receipt which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant.

OUT AGAIN, IN AGAIN. Forbes Completes Four-Year Term and Is Again Arrested

Out of prison, and into the arms of a police officer who held a warrant for his arrest on the grounds that he was a fugitive from justice, was the rather harrowing experience of Fred A. Forbes, who completed a four year term at the Concord State Prison. Forbes was charged with forging an express money order in Maine, and after a hearing before Judge A. Chester Clark the fugitive decided to go to Maine with the officer who had been sent after him without being extradited.

Fred B. Forbes of Kennebunk, Me., was released on parole by Warden Scott, but before he had passed the door of the State prison where he had served four years, he was placed under arrest by Marshal G. A. S. Kimball, charged with being a fugitive from justice. The arrest was made on a warrant sworn out by Sheriff Haven A. Roberts of Sanford, Me.

It is alleged that Forbes forged an American Express Co. order for $50 in Maine, under the name of Robert Aclon. He was arraigned before Judge Clark at a special session of court, pleaded not guilty.

Forbes at first stated that he would not leave the state unless he was extradited, but on being assured that no other charge would be brought against him, he became easier, but asked for time to think it over.

Forbes was committed to the State prison four years ago on being convicted of forgery by the superior court of Cook county.

WORLD'S SERIES TO BE STARTED IN NEW YORK

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—Assuming that the New York team will win the National League pennant, the members of the National Baseball Commission today decided that the first game between that club and the Philadelphia American League team for the world's championship shall be played in New York Oct. 7.

Members of the commission, before going into session said they did not expect to announce any startling innovations for the big games. If any were suggested, they said, they would be considered.

Representatives of the Philadelphia Athletics, which club has already won the American League pennant, and several officials of the New York Nationals, whose team is very close to clinching the championship in the senior organizations, were early on the ground to take up with the commission plans for the series.

The only question which the commissioners expected might call for extended deliberation was the matter of the distribution of tickets. It is probable the commission will practically adopt the method followed last year in the New York-Boston series. The umpires agreed upon for the series are H. Connolly, John J. Dugan, William Klein and Charles J. Rigler. The second game will be played in Philadelphia on Oct. 8, after which the clubs will alternate between the cities. In case a game is postponed because of rain or for other cause or a legal game is not played the teams will remain in the city where the postponement occurred until a legal game shall have been played.

In the event of a legal game resulting in a tie the two clubs will not play it off in the city where it occurred, but will move on to the next city the same as though the contest resulted in one of the teams winning.

All games will start at 2 p. m. In New York the following prices will prevail: Boxes accommodating four persons $25, upper grandstand, reserved, $3, admission, and entire lower grandstand unreserved, $2, bleacher seats $1. Unreserved seats will be sold at the Polo Grounds on

GARDNER GIVEN
NEW POSITION
BY PRESIDENT

Washington, Sept. 25.—Former United States Senator Obadiah Gardner of Maine has been selected by President Wilson for the international joint commission having jurisdiction over boundary disputes between the United States and Canada, to succeed Frank S. Streeter of Concord.

The day of the games, "first come first served." Reserved seat tickets must be purchased for three days from both clubs. In the event that three games are not played, the club will refund the money for the third game tickets.

In Philadelphia, the prices will be: Box seats $5 each, reserved seats $3, main grandstand, $1, reserved seats, right and left field pavilions, $2; bleacher seats $1.

The sale of tickets both in New York and Philadelphia will be under regulations made by the clubs themselves. The commission announced on behalf of the two clubs that mail orders will positively not be received. Neither club will be permitted to construct extra stands on the field. Spectators will be permitted to over flow on the fields and there will be no ground rules.

Official scorers will be Francis C. Richter, Philadelphia and J. G. Taylor Spring, St. Louis.

William J. MacBeth, New York, and Joseph M. McGready, Philadelphia, will have charge of the newspaper arrangements in their respective cities. Applications for seats are to be made to them.

The commission appointed Leslie H. Constant, secretary of the Pittsburgh club, to represent it in both cities, but he has not yet accepted the appointment.

A preliminary meeting of the commission will be held in New York Oct. 5.

The National commission after disposing of the World Series details appointed Umpires Bryon and Evans to officiate in the Boston city series, which also starts on Oct. 7.

The players eligible to participate in the World's Series are:

New York—Burns, Cooper, Graddall, Doyle, Demaree, Fletcher, Fromme, Grant, Herzog, Hartley, Marquard, White, Mathewson, Murray, Meyers, McLean, Merkle, Robinson, McCormick, Shaffer, Snodgrass, Thorpe, Teague, Wilson, Schupp.

Philadelphia—Schang, Lapp, Thomas, Bender, Plank, Coombs, Houck, Brown, Sloukey, Pennock, Bush, Weygoff, McInnes, Collins, Barry, Baker, Orr, Davis, Lavan, Oldring, Strunk, E. Murphy, D. Murphy, Walsh, Daley.

RIGHT TREATMENT FOR DESERTERS.

When Judge Brey committed a number of wife deserters to the House of Correction the other day ordering that they be put to work on the stone pile and their wives be paid 65 cents a day out of the county treasury, he gave the signal of this community's awakening to a new and higher social responsibility.

A condition, not a theory, presents itself when a man is arraigned in court, accused of refusing or failing to support his wife and children. There may be wholly impersonal causes of unemployment growing out of circumstances the prisoner cannot control. Those are not within the province of the Court to adjust. Here are women and children without means of subsistence. They are the complainants, society must take upon their petition.

The law now operative in Judge Brey's court takes into account the two factors of "possible enforced idleness and positive necessity" of the family to be provided for, and takes care of them both. It "gives" the husband a job and turns over to his family the wages which go with that job. The honorable man would rather see his family get even 65 cents a day than nothing. The other kind of man is very properly given no choice in the matter.

There is absolutely no satisfaction in the country management which plays ablebodied men in such a manner that they can earn only 65 cents a day. And there is absolutely no honesty in the management that makes a family live on 65 cents a day when the head of that family is earning more. Therefore, it becomes the plain and imperative duty of every county to provide employment for delinquent husbands at which they will have to do a full day's work for a full day's pay, this pay going to the neglected family.

It has been held by some critics of the Mother's Pension Law that a financial provision for mothers of dependent children paid out of the public treasury would be an invitation to lazy husbands to desert. In the law Judge Brey has begun to enforce there lies the complete answer to that objection. The man who abandons his family breaks the law. To capture and punish such a man is the proper business of society not of the individual mother.

MRS. PANKHURST CONFIDENT

Believes She Will Have no Trouble in Entering the United States.

Paris, Sept. 25.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English suffragette leader, has stated that she does not anticipate the slightest difficulty in entering the United States on her proposed visit to that country and had received no communication whatever on the subject. "The object of my voyage to America," she said, "is to answer the question in the minds of the American people, when Miss Haldane did not answer, namely: Why militants do the sort of things they do in England." The Miss Haldane referred to by Mrs. Pankhurst is Miss Elizabeth S. Haldane, who recently visited America with her brother, Viscount Haldane, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain. While in favor of woman suffrage, she has expressed pronounced opinions against militancy. "Fortunately," continued Mrs. Pankhurst, "on account of the reasonableness of American men, American women appear to be getting the vote by peaceful means. Nevertheless, I think that even American women owe some gratitude to English militancy for helping to make votes for women the burning question of the day. I have no respect anything but a sympathetic welcome from the nation whose past history shows it to have been a great militant itself."

PLOT TO KILL JAPANESE FOREIGN MINISTER.

Tokio Police Unearth Conspiracy, Which Included Blowing up of Foreign Office.

Tokio, Sept. 25.—A plot to assassinate the Japanese minister of foreign affairs, Baron Nomura Makino, and dynamite the foreign office has been unearthed by the police. A miner, who had stolen explosives for this purpose, has been arrested.

WESTERN BANKERS
DO NOT LIKE THE
CURRENCY BILL

Washington, Sept. 25.—Further criticism of the Administration currency bill from the viewpoint of the business interests of the middle west was presented to the Senate Banking committee today by Wendell C. Winston of Minnesota, who said the bill would be practically ineffective for the middle west because only paper maturing within ninety days would be available for redaction. Senator O'Gorman defended the constitutionality of the provision of the bill requiring national banks to pay ten per cent of their capital into the regional reserve banks. Mr. Winston and others have objected that it would deprive the banks of property without due process of law. "This bill," said Mr. Winston in conclusion, "would result in a contraction of the currency for eighteen months after its passage and as soon as it reaches full working order will result in a dangerous inflation." Curtis Mosher, secretary of the Citizens' League of Minnesota, submitted a brief showing the difficulty of forming a regional reserve bank in the Northwest.

J. G. Haffert, vice president of the Merchants' Loan and Trust company of Chicago discussed the bill from the viewpoint of trust companies organized under state laws.

ILLINOIS BANKERS MEET

President of Association Will Analyze and Denounce the Currency Bill.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Indorsement of the stand taken by the currency committee of the American Bankers' Association on the Glass-Steagall bill probably will be given by the Illinois Bankers' Association, which opened its annual convention here today. At a meeting of the executive council early today a strong recommendation in that direction was agreed to. President J. D. Phillips of Green Valley said he would discuss the bill in his annual address, but would not forecast his opinion except that "it was both analytical and denunciatory." Expressions of other prominent bankers indicate there is no great unanimity of opinion on the bill. United States Senator Sherman and Robert H. Seeds of Birmingham, Pa., were among other speakers of the day.

Father Noah to Blame.

There has been much written of late about "swatting the fly." Walt Mason gives us the following on this popular subject:

Had Father Noah been quite wise he would have killed the pair of flies that roosted in the ark; he let that pregnant duty slide while he and Shem and Japheth tried to navigate their bark. Two flies were all there were, "all told." And Noah might have knocked them cold with one great husky swat; he had the chance, he let it slip while he was mooning around the ship—the knowledge makes me ho! And ever since the sons of men have toiled and wrought and toiled again, to kill the measly flies; the more we kill the more we find, the more we knock the blamed things blind the more their legions rise. We're all, like Noah, more or less responsible for the distress that makes all hope seem vague; we see some ugly things alive, and let them live and grow and thrive until they are a plague. We calmly view the noxious weeds, and habits bad, and evil deeds, which breed so beastly fast! We let them grow and multiply as Father Noah did the fly, and kick ourselves at last. "A stitch in time," the poet said (he had a long and shapely head), "will save you nine, by gosh." And nothing truer will you find in all the years that lie behind, or all the years to come.

The Remedy Worse Than the Evil.

Nearly everybody uses slang of some kind occasionally. To counteract this tendency, which seems to be growing, Life has inaugurated a crusade against it with a veritable Freudian cure. Its treatment consists in the injection of the following virus:

"Take it from us, kid, there's no nourishment in slinging slang stuff. That's a cinch. Slang is all to the bad. It don't get you anywhere. Forget that Norwegian college professor who says that American slang is the swell talk. He's trying to put one over on us. Either someone has been handing him a lemon or else he's trying to con us. Listen. You can't make a bit with the tony guys unless you put a little style into your lingo. The trouble with slang is that it puts your vocabulary on the blink in a jiffy. And then, when you want to have a touch of high life and throw the lugs, you're in bad. See? Do you get us? Have some class about you and cut it out."

Doesn't that get your goat?

Chasing Votes and Money.

President Taft hurt himself when he chased about in an automobile after the cross-roads voter in the pre-convention campaign. Secretary Bryan's money getting stunt is many degrees worse. The principal ground for criticism is that the state department has on hand a number of exceedingly critical problems that demand the heads of the department. To go out for more money under these circumstances is a gross violation of the decencies of official service, which is aggravated by Mr. Bryan's possession of a large income and of fortunate investments that place him and his family beyond pecuniary anxieties. Most men holding such high office have made many financial sacrifices in order to render service to their country.—Greenfield Gazette.

Lower Beef Prices.

The demonstration which has been given, however, with the shipment of beef received this week shows that it has not been the tariff which has maintained beef at its prevailing price. Argentina beef on which the tariff of a cent and a half a pound was paid can be brought to this country and sold for four cents a pound less than American beef, because of its scarcity. If this can be done now under the tariff, it could have been done before, indicating plainly enough that it was not the tariff duty which kept beef prices high, and it was not the Wilson-Underwood free trade in beef which brought the prices down.—Norwich Bulletin.

Cultivating a Dangerous Habit.

The boy who has the freedom of the streets after nightfall, without business or permission, is cultivating a very dangerous habit. Any place where a boy has no business is a very dangerous place for him whether it is on the street, in the store or elsewhere. A boy that is all right likes his home, friends, books or newspaper in preference to the class found on the streets, without business. Business men of all kinds look upon the boy loafer as a dead beat of the future.

Queen of Spain and Her Daughter, Deaf and Dumb, Like Brother.

Nearly heartbroken is the queen of Spain. It was bad enough that her second son was deaf and dumb, but now comes the added blow that her second daughter, the Infanta Maria, will be similarly affected. The little Spanish princess is totally deaf, and unless this can be corrected it is probable that she will never be able to speak. This is the latest picture of the queen and the little Maria.

these contributors other than those of the brewing interests, were brought into the evidence. These included the names of fifty-two persons mentioned as donors of $2500 each in the account of Louis A. Rensky, the governor's campaign secretary, in the Mutual Alliance Trust company. This account showed, with checks and cash, that deposits of $14,000 had been made between Sept. 10, 1912, and the date of the governor's inauguration.

Decision Is Reserved.

Decision on the question as to whether Sulzer's alleged misuse of checks given the governor without restriction as to their use, constituted bribery was reserved.

Judge Lewis C. Cullen of New York, a lifelong friend of the governor, testified that he had raised money for the campaign but had given it to him without restriction as to its use.

Sulzer called personally on Charles A. Stabler, president of the American Malt and Brewing company, the latter testified, and requested his aid in obtaining the support of Tammany hall. He said he obtained the support and later solicited the campaign funds for Sulzer.

The recently managers decided tonight to bring no more impeachment charges against the governor.

Mr. Stabler subsequently told of having collected $250 from Peter Doolittle; $100 from William J. Gilroy; $250 from George C. Hawley; $250 from Arthur Lachow; $250 from William and Peter Hoffman; all representing liquor interests. His personal contribution of $100 was added to the total turned over to the governor.

"I think the total amounted to about $1400," he declared. "Yes I may be in error; it might be perhaps only $1300; I don't think it is over $1400."

Delivers Money to Mrs. Sulzer.

Charles Dorn, who followed Stabler on the stand and testified that he had delivered some of Stabler's collections at Sulzer's new home. He was asked whether he delivered them to Mr. or Mrs. Sulzer.

"I think Mrs. Sulzer took it and put it in a desk,"

Lengthy questioning was necessary before the witness could be persuaded to make a definite statement concerning what he told "either Mr. or Mrs. Sulzer the money was for."

Morris Tekelsky, president of the New York Liquor Dealers' association and a member of the general committee of Tammany hall, testified to having contributed $50.

The question as to the admissibility of the evidence of campaign contributions not cited in the articles of impeachment, precipitated a heated wrangle among the opposing attorneys.

"Those transactions—100 or more in number," asserted John H. Stannard, counsel for the prosecution, "constituted a common scheme, a design on the part of the respondent, to display certain contributions and conceal others. I can see that the failure to report one might have been an accident, two a coincidence, but to fail to account for 100 is a crime."

Attorneys for the governor protested that the attack should be treated as an indictment and that the governor could not be tried for offenses not alleged in such indictment. Presiding Judge Cullen in a lengthy opinion overruled the objections of the governor's counsel. He pointed out that they had been given ample opportunity to request the prosecution for a bill of particulars.

Judge Cullen then submitted the question to the vote of the court and the 15 members present voted unanimously in favor of letting all the evidence in.

The name of Mrs. Sulzer, who, it is reported, will be one of the star witnesses for the defense, was frequently brought into the testimony today. It was developed that she had a telephone communication with Ralph Prior, vice president of the Frank Y. Strauss company, in regard to a $1000 check which he had sent to the governor in behalf of Mr. Strauss who was abroad. According to Prior's testimony, Mrs. Sulzer had reported to him over the telephone that the check which he had sent was not in the envelope. The witness said that he had stopped payment on the check and sent the governor another and that Mrs. Sulzer told him that the check had been received. He added that Mrs. Sulzer and Mr. Strauss were related.

Both the senate and the house adjourned tonight until tomorrow afternoon, after being in session a few minutes.

STILL BURNING.

Fire at Great Swamp Has Done Many Dollars' Worth of Damage.

The fire at Great Swamp, adjoining the Hayes farm is still burning despite the recent rains. It is sweeping over acres of land and has done many thousands dollars worth of damage. It is confined three feet under the surface and is making life miserable for people who live within a mile or so of the swamp. The last fire of this kind which occurred near the same location did so much damage that the territory it covered has been no growth for a period of 20 years. Some attempt should be made to check this fire which has been in progress for two months or more.

FIND SKELETON BETWEEN WALLS

The Mansion of Col. Thomas Snell Yields Another Ghastly Sensation.

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 25.—The mansion at Clinton, Ill., erected 49 years ago, by Colonel Thomas Snell, yielded another sensation today when it was learned that the skeleton of a child in a home made coffin, had been found hidden in a wall. Wreckers tearing down the residence made the discovery, which adds another chapter to the story history of Col. Snell, who died about 7 years ago and for whose fortune a famous fight was made in the courts of Illinois. The body of the child had been buried in a starch box with a sliding cover, which easily opened, exposing the bones when the house wreckers found it.

Colonel Snell lived in the house up to the time of his death. The house has been occupied since that time by one family, though vacant practically a year.

Recalls Famous Will Case

The story of Colonel Snell's life was told in the courts at the three trials when Richard Snell broke his father's will on the ground that the old man was of unsound mind. It was brought out that the lure of gold led at least one husband to commit to his wife selling her affections to the banker, while both it was charged conspired in attempt to gain more gold by holding out their 14 year old daughter as a lure for the eccentric millionaire.

Letters were produced to show the relation between Colonel Snell and the mother and also letters from the daughter, imploring him to exchange his money for her kisses. Other letters were offered to prove that Mrs. Snell McNamara, grand niece, profited more by the will than anything else that Colonel Snell had practically disinherited his only son and that during the life of the older Snell, Mrs. McNamara had received annually money tributes amounting to many thousands of dollars, and had accompanied him on many trips.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

It appears from recent articles printed in your valuable paper, that the slight misunderstanding between our regular fire fighters and the Veteran Fireman's Association has come to a satisfactory end and that the mutually desired good feeling and friendship exists once more. That is as it should be. The feeling of all our citizens toward the veterans, should be amiable as it is almost impossible to find the annual New England Muster in any city without the individual support of the people. It is the business element. Therefore, it behooves us one and all to forget the past and to appropriate our energy, time and money to advance the interests of our city and to pull hand in hand with the old fire fighters; the old vets in an endeavor to hold the annual muster for Portsmouth in the near future. A muster is a valuable asset to any city. It gives our merchants a chance to advertise and show their different wares; it gives us all an opportunity to show to the thousands of strangers our facilities for business; and while the muster is of only one day's duration, nevertheless, thousands of dollars would be left with our merchants, and pleasure and amusement furnished for all our citizens.

It is none to early Mr. Editor to start the preliminary work for the Annual New England Muster, and would it not be well for the Merchants' Exchange, the Board of Trade, the Bunker Drum Corps and all civic organizations to appoint committees and wait upon the vets and try to induce them to take the matter of a muster in hand and offer their co-operation to this end?

No Veteran Fireman's organization in New England is better known than the local organization and none has more influence in the matter of selecting their leaders for these annual affairs. While the city fathers would without doubt be willing to appropriate the necessary funds for the event that would hardly be necessary as the money could be raised among our merchants within 24 hours.

The veterans have conducted whist parties and picnics very successfully, and as entertainers they are unsurpassed, and if they will take hold of this muster question with their customary vigor, we would have a day that would long be remembered.

But the old vets in charge. Years ago at a fire these boys would handle the axe or the hose—wherever it might be, and would fight the fire from the inside even when it seemed impossible for a man to live among the vicious flames; but they never faltered and if they will enter into this proposed muster for Portsmouth with the same determination they showed in the old days it will be worth while for us all to get busy at once. RESPECTFULLY,

Safety razor blades sharpened, lawn mowers repaired, saws filed, umbrellas mended, boys' made, looks repaired, razors honed and re-honed, scissors, knives and tools ground at Horne's, Daniel street.

CURRENT OPINION

OUT OF POLITICS
KEEP WOMEN

It is a beautiful dream that female suffrage will purify politics. The vital and important thing for us to consider is the effect on women themselves. We had better endure the evils of corruption in politics and demagoguery in our government, rather than bring about a condition which will mar the beauty and dim the lustre of the glorious womanhood to which we have been accustomed all our lives. We can better afford to have degraded and corrupt politics than degraded and bad women. To have both in ever increasing degree, as was the case in Rome, would make the world so unspeakably horrible as the face of earth and civilization would be blotted out like it was in the dark ages after the fall of Rome. I am so thoroughly a convert to the belief that you cannot touch pitch without being defiled, that I shudder to think of the consequences to the womanhood of America should suffrage become universal, taking in both sexes and all races. Yet the experiment is going to be tried, I fear.

The demand of women for suffrage is growing too fast to be stopped by "old fogies" like myself. The men of the country will give them what they demand, even though it be to their ultimate injury.

I believe that women will improve politics, but ultimately politics will destroy her as we know her, and love her, and when our good women are no longer to be found and we have lost the breed the doom of the republic is near.—Hon. Benjamin Tillman, United States Senator.

WILLIE BROKE THE WINDOW

"Willie broke a window!" You can hear it in the street. Hear the children marvel at the most prodigious feat. "Willie broke a window pane," they shout the news along. And Willie is the hero of a large admiring throng.

Didn't go to do it, but the stone it kind of slipped, kind of called out crooked-like and through the pane it zipped. And all the little girls and boys they raised a mighty yell. "Willie broke a window-light! Don't anybody tell."

Willie broke the window, and he hollered good and loud. When mother took and stripped him, but he's feeling pretty proud; And father, while his language was a little bit profane, Father's kind of proud himself that Willie broke the pane.

Just a baby yesterday, creeping on the floor, Staying close to mother's side; or playing around the door, Now he's broke a window and his mother's heart is sore; Growing up to boyhood, he's her little babe no more.

NO BUTTER FOR VASSAR GIRLS

College Students Also Find Soft Mattresses Replaced by Hard Ones.

Poughkeepsie, Sept. 25.—This shocking state of affairs became known today to the girl students at Vassar College: That in future there will be no soft cotton mattresses in the dormitories.

No (either soft or hard) butter on the dining tables.

It appears that the college authorities "unbeknownst" to their fair charges, have been making hygienic experiments for a year or so, and have reached the conclusion that the luxurious softness of cotton and the smooth em-ol-les-cence (the Vassar girls know what this means, even if you do have to look it up—page 576) of butter were not conducive to the highest degree of health. And so this morning a lot of them arose very stiffly from hard mattresses and choked down dry bread at breakfast, and then talked about making a formal protest—or in other words a big kick—about matters.

During the summer vacation season, it develops, all the cotton mattresses at Vassar were burned. Also all the extra chairs were taken out of the girls' rooms, and in their place were substituted extra beds, with not even hard mattresses on them.

EXPULSION DRIVER AT ROCHESTER

Hayden Is Prohibited From Driving on Any N. T. A. Track.

Rochester, Sept. 25.—Today was governor's day. This afternoon the Hannan American band escorted in automobiles from Hayes' hotel to Cold Spring park, Governor and Mrs. Samuel D. Felker and Majors Charrell, Lanscott and McGuire of the governor's staff, and Councilors Noone, Badger and Gilman and Speaker Britton, who occupied seats in front of the grand stands at the close of the afternoon. Governor Felker was presented by J. Alban Laferriere of Manchester, in behalf of the Canadian government, of which he is agent, a large bouquet of American beauties and prairie grass in which was a Canadian and American flag.

Hayden Is Expelled.

The races today were the best of the week requiring fourteen heats to decide three classes, before the heat in the 2:15 trot there was a clash between starting judge Albert H. Merrill and Frank Hayden, a well known driver, which resulted in Hayden and his horse being ruled out of the race. Later in the day Hayden was expelled from driving on any track controlled by the National Trotters' association.

After being ordered from the track Hayden's horse was taken from him by order of Judge Merrill because he refused to leave the track after dismounting from his sulky. Hayden refused to have anything more to do with the horse and now the fair association has the animal on its hands. Hayden has taken steps to prosecute the association for taking the horse. WILL SELL ROAD.

New York and New Haven to Dispose of Hampden Railroad.

Springfield, Sept. 25.—The New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad financiers will sell the Hampden Railroad to the Boston & Maine Railroad according to advisers which reached here today. The Hampden Railroad Corporation is to be dissolved, and its assets and liabilities assigned by the Boston & Maine railroad through purchase and will become a part of the Boston & Maine system. Announcement to this effect will be made by the railroad officials within a few days.

The transaction is believed to be the solution of putting the assets of the much discussed Hampden railroad in tangible shape and getting from the line some return on the investment. The move will do away with the proposed lease of the road and furnish a good argument for the petition now before the State Public Service Commission for the right to make a $2,500,000 bond issue.

The plan is for the Boston & Maine to take over the Hampden railroad as soon as it is legally dissolved. The present debt of the controlling company will be financed on the railroad's own resources, and there is a possibility of extension bonds being issued. The move will make the Hampden railroad an extension of the Boston & Maine instead of a leased line. The Public Service Commission recently severely criticized the terms of the proposed lease of the line.

ENGLAND TO SEND A BIGGER FLEET

Washington, Sept. 25. The announcement by the British Admiralty that a fleet comprising eight battleships, three battle cruisers, eight cruisers and eight light cruisers will be sent to the Mediterranean early in November, coupled with the despatch of four large armored ships, which will have their base in the future at Bermuda, indicates a radical change in the British naval policy, which, on account of friction with Germany, has kept practically all the fighting units within home waters for several years past. The Mediterranean fleet, after maneuvers, will cruise as far as Alexandria. With the vessels already in those waters the visiting fleet, under Vice Admiral Sir Stanley Colville, will make the most imposing naval demonstration ever attempted by Great Britain in the Mediterranean. The fourth division, comprising the battleships, will proceed direct to Bermuda. It is due there Oct. 10, after which the ships will scatter to visit various ports in the Caribbean.

The visit of a strong British fleet to the Mediterranean in November is of particular interest here, owing to the voyage of a portion of the Atlantic fleet of the United States to those waters at the same time. It had been said, up to the time of the British announcement, that the American squadron would be the strongest naval force ever navigating the Mediterranean, but this will no longer hold true.

Nine American battleships will be sent, including five dreadnoughts, the Wyoming, Arkansas, Florida, Utah and Delaware. The other battleships are the Vermont, Ohio, Connecticut and Kansas. As against these there will be eleven British dreadnoughts, three of them battle cruisers, in addition to the lighter vessels mentioned. The nine American battleships will sail from Hampton Roads Oct. 25 and will be accompanied by the new cruisers Oregon, Jason and Cyclops, the supply ship Celtic and the hospital ship Solace. The ships will steam at the easy speed of twelve knots and will not stop at Gibraltar. The Wyoming should arrive at Malta Nov. 8 and sail on the 11th for Naples, leaving that port on Nov. 18, she will proceed to Villefranche, and sail from that port at the head of the fleet on the return cruise. The fleet will arrive at their home yards Dec. 15, to remain until after the Christmas holidays. The fleet will be entirely self-sustaining on this cruise, with its coal and provisions in fuel and supply ships, and with the hospital ship to care for the sick. The visit is not intended to be one of ceremony or official in any respect, and the object in routing ships to one port is to allow the enlisted men to make trips into the interior of countries visited to have them utilize their time and money to the best advantage. With this in view the commander-in-chief is in communication with touring companies to make arrangements for traveling parties of officers and men.

County Commissioner George A. Carls, of Exeter, was here today to attend the meeting of the Rockingham County Commissioners.

NEVADA TO HAVE A BIRD RESERVE

Washington, Sept. 25. By an executive order Amable Island in Pyramid Lake, Nevada, has been set apart for the use of the Department of Agriculture as a preserve and a breeding ground for native birds. Pyramid Lake is one of the scenic wonders of the west. It occupies only the deep, out portion of the basin of what was a much greater inland lake, covering a large part of northwestern Nevada. This extinct lake has been named in honor of an early French explorer. The total length of Lake Lahontan from north to south was about 250 miles, with a width from east to west of 150 miles. Its area was more than 3000 square miles. It was exceedingly irregular, however, for it was broken up by mountain ranges, into many long and narrow arms, with deep bays and long peninsulas. At the time of its greatest expansion it still had no outlet, although one arm reached far westward into Honey Lake Valley, California, and another one extended into southern Oregon.

Resort of Many Birds.
The islands of the lake are the resort of thousands of sea birds many of which nest there. Pelicans, sea gulls, terns, geese, ducks, etc., abound. The pelican rookeries are large and particularly interesting, with the great uncouth birds swimming about in large numbers and the downy young waddling around the nests. The cormorants and grebes in the tufa offer especially convenient nesting places for many of the birds. Another interesting feature about the life of these rocks is the multitude of spiders. One cannot climb over them without being covered with the web and detaching hundreds of the little insects.

Fantastic Forms of Life.
At many points within the basin of the former lake, Lahontan, there are strange appearing deposits of calcareous tufa, either interlocking the rocks or rising in curious and fantastic towers and domes. The water of the lake were richly impregnated with calcium carbonate, derived in part from the leaching streams, but more largely, probably, from calcareous springs. As the lake waters receded, the salts in solution became more concentrated, and soon began to form chemical precipitates upon projecting rocky points. In the portion of the basin now occupied by Pyramid Lake, the springs were more numerous and the water consequently more richly impregnated with lime. As a result, there exist in and about this lake the most interesting and remarkable tufa deposits known in all the Great Basin.

Great Stone Mushrooms.
The tufa deposits are of various sorts and appearances, the differences being due to changes in the chemical properties of the water at various stages. Some of the forms are merely interesting, and apparently structureless. Others show beautiful interlocking figures, lapping over each other like the successive branches of some organic growth. The great deposits in Pyramid Lake have been built up in the form of towers, domes and mushrooms. The smaller ones bear a most striking resemblance to great thick mushrooms with a conical structure. These mushroom-like growths start from some projecting point or pebble and increase in size by precipitation from surrounding water, until, massing together, the great domes and mushrooms have been built up, rising hundreds of feet in the air.

Amable Island, which has been chosen for the preserve, is completely encircled with the dendritic tufa which from a distance appears like the overlapping scales upon some gigantic animal. Upon the eastern side of the island, rising from the edge of the water, there is a most picturesque deposit, known as the mushroom rock. Rising from a firm base the deposit becomes smaller, and then at the top swells out in a spherical head. During the high-water stages of the lake picturesque towers grew up beneath its surface from numerous warm springs carrying lime in solution. Spillings still issue at various places, and the tufa can be observed in process of formation. It is soft and spongy, crumbling under one's feet as one walks over the surface, but slightly above the summer level of the lake.

CONGRESS MOVES FOR SAFETY RAILWAYS
Washington, Sept. 25.—On the heels of the Interstate Commerce Commission's scathing denunciation of the New Haven road for the recent North Haven wreck, in which it was held that main failures, beginning with its high officials and ending with its train men, were responsible for the loss of twenty-one lives, sentiment in Congress rapidly began to crystallize in a movement to take up the whole subject of legislation for train safety at the December session. Backed by the influence of the Interstate Commerce Commission an effort will be made to empower the Commission to deal with such questions as steel cars and modern safety equipment. Commissioner McChord is drafting a bill to place such power with the Commission. Representative Stevens of New Hampshire, chairman of a sub-committee of the Interstate Commerce Committee, today began hearings preliminary to the drafting of a similar bill. The McChord bill, according to Mr. Stevens, will be ready for introduction in the House next week. Atter public hearings Mr. Stevens hopes to present a report and a revised bill to the House late in November, so that it may be taken up immediately after Congress convenes in December. The hearing today was devoted to inventors. Experts in railroad operation will be heard before a report is made.

DID CHILD WAKE UP CROSS OR FEVERISH

Look Mother! If Tongue Is Coated
Give California Syrup of Figs
To Clean the Bowels

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign his little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, bad breath, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachic diarrhoea, remember a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals California Syrup of Figs for children's ills; give a teaspoonful and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless fruit laxative, and it never fails to effect a good middle cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups are plainly on the bottle. Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow. But get the genuine! Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of California Syrup of Figs, then look and see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Co., Camberfells are being sold here. Don't be fooled.

IT'S A GOOD LAW.

Be Careful What You Carry for Concealed Weapons.

Under the new law which goes into effect shortly a person carrying concealed weapons will have to watch out. It detected with a pistol, revolver, athletic dagger, knife, sling shot or metallic knuckles, it means $100 fine and a year in jail, unless permission has been granted by the proper authorities to allow possession of any of the above named weapons.

Fine weather for sea bathing, and quite a few lake their regular morning plunge at Rye.

A BREAK THAT LOOKS LIKE BOYS WORK

Miss Mary Farrell reported to the police on Thursday evening that her house on Union street had been entered during the afternoon and about $5.00 in money had been taken.

From the fact that entrance was gained by hurling a rock through a window so that the catch could be turned, the police are inclined to believe that it is the work of boys. Three lads were seen in the garden after fruit and it is thought that they might know something about the case.

Only money was taken and the silver or other things were not disturbed.

AN AUTO FOR EVERY YEAR

Charles E. Woods, the local Cadillac agent, is arranging for a novel exhibit at the Rochester Fair today in the automobile parade. He will send up thirteen cars, one for each year he has held the agency. The first is one of the old time, one cylinder runabout, made in 1900. Then in order a model car for each year up to the 1914 car which is just out.

Mr. Woods exhibit will leave here at 8.30 this morning in time to get to the fair, to take part in the parade. It is safe to say that no other agency will be able to show such an exhibit.

EDITORIAL TRIBUTES TO MR. KELLEY

The death of John W. Kelley of Portsmouth removes one of the ablest and best known members of the New Hampshire bar. Born in 1865, graduated from Dartmouth in 1888, and admitted to the bar in 1894, his career has been an eminently successful one, having to do with important cases, chiefly as counsel for the Boston and Maine. He was a choice spirit, big hearted, generous, kindly, and he will be held in pleasant memory by all who had the pleasure and privilege of knowing him intimately. Somewhat of a Press Press.

The death of John W. Kelley of Portsmouth removes one of the most successful lawyers in New Hampshire and one who had many friends in Rochester, as well as elsewhere in New Hampshire and New England. Mr. Kelley was a Dartmouth man of the class of 1888, being a classmate of Dr. Keay, Fred A. Walker and Dr. William W. Lougee, Rochester boys. He was a football player and the organizer of Dartmouth's first golf and baseball club. Jack Kelley, as he was called, was a born fighter. It was what gave him his prestige in football and later in the law. But he was also clever and far-sighted. Although a railroad attorney and a most successful one, he did not antagonize the modern progressive tendency entirely but sought to conform to it. He exercised a large influence in the politics of the state and will be greatly missed.—Rochester Currier.

GERMANS DO NOT RECOGNIZE SCHMIDT

Berlin, Sept. 25.—The police of Frankfurt-on-the-Main today received from New York a photograph of Hans Schmidt, the suspected murderer of Anna Ammeller, but, according to the Tagblatt, they found on comparison with one in their possession of the former Mainz priest that they were so unlike that it is doubtful whether the two men are identical.

The differences in the characteristics features of the mouth and around the eyes are so great that if the photographs represent the same person the authorities believe he must have greatly changed since he left Germany.

HOW TO TREAT DEGENERATES.

Speakers at Pittsburgh Conference Agree That Little Is Known on the Subject—Elizabeth Farrell Opposes Sterilization, but Believes Segregation Desirable.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 25.—The "Treatment of Degenerates in Neighborhoods" was the subject discussed at last night's session of the National Federation of Settlements, in conference here. Prominent as a speaker was Elizabeth Farrell of the Henry Street Settlement House, New York city, and a national authority on feeble-mindedness among children. She took for her subject the agitation of plans of segregation, sterilization by surgical operations and a radical proposal "of a slow and easy death for defectives." Extremists were condemned. Miss Farrell said it is not in accord with Christian principles, justice or equity to sterilize or kill the defectives. She said that under certain conditions segregation is desirable and proper. She maintained little is known on the subject of treating defectives and that all steps must be conservative. "A discussion followed Miss Farrell's remarks with the preponderance of opinion favoring Miss Jane Addams of Chicago agreed with Miss Farrell in that there is little known of how to treat defective children and urged prudence.

LET THE HERALD SOLVE YOUR "AD" PROBLEM

How many times do your salesmen fail to do business because the way wasn't prepared for them with properly placed advertising?

It's the newspaper that must win a hearing today for your product. Advertising is necessary in making sales because purchasers have to be first interested in your goods—have to be first convinced that you really have something worth while to offer them—before they buy.

No selling plan can be effective, and no sales force can bring home the bacon without direct advertising. It's the very life-blood of business.

If you wish us to criticize your advertising we shall be pleased to give you our opinion without charge. We write the right ads to make advertising good advertising.
